

RULES - MIND READER

- One player (The 'Mind Reader') draws a card & reads the question out loud to the rest of the players.
- Each of the other players must privately write down 'Yes' or 'No' depending on which answer applies to them for that specific question. Do not reveal the answers.
- After all other players have written their answers, the 'Mind Reader' must guess each of the players answers one at a time, after which each player must reveal their answer.
- Each time the 'Mind Reader' correctly guesses one of the player's answer that player takes a penalty. And each time The 'Mind Reader' incorrectly guesses an answer the 'Mind Reader' takes a penalty.

- Penalties can be anything the group agrees upon: Negative points / Taking sips of a drink & so on.

EXAMPLE

There are 5 players. Player 1 is the 'Mind Reader'.
Players 2, 3, 4 & 5 write their answers privately.
The 'Mind Reader' correctly guesses player 3 & 4's answers & incorrectly guesses Player 2 & 5 answers. Players 3 & 4 take one penalty each.
The 'Mind Reader' takes two penalties
(One for each incorrect answer)

RULES - WHY ME?

- ◆ A question card is drawn & read out loud to all the players.
 - ◆ Each player must privately write down the name of another player they think best fits the description of the question as their vote. Players cannot vote for themselves.
 - ◆ All players reveal their votes simultaneously.
 - ◆ The player(s) who receive the most votes take a penalty.

- ◆ Penalties can be anything the group agrees upon: Negative points / Taking sips of a drink & so on.

EXAMPLE

There are 7 players. Player 1 receives four votes.
Players 3, 4, & 7 each receive one vote.
As Player 1 received the most votes, they take one penalty.

RULES - Vs (VERSUS)

- A question card is drawn & read out loud to all the players.
- Each player must privately write down their vote based on their personal preference from the two options presented in the question (1 or 2).
- All players reveal their votes simultaneously.
- Players who voted for the minority option take a penalty. In the event of a tie or unanimous votes all players take a penalty.

- Penalties can be anything the group agrees upon: Negative points / Taking sips of a drink & so on.

EXAMPLE

There are 7 players. Players 1, 4, 5, & 7 voted for Option 1. Players 2, 3, & 6 voted for Option 2. As Players 2, 3, & 6 are in the minority, they each take one penalty.
